Relational Numerology

In comparing your Expression Number with that of another person, Numerology can describe the social and overall understanding that you can have with this person. The comparison of the Intimate Numbers gives an idea of the chances of understanding in the case of a long-term union or association engaging concrete activities while the Desire Number covers the compatibility of profound aspirations between the two people.

Understanding between Claudia Schiffer & Jacques Chirac

Intimate number - Characters compatibility

7 and 9 : Quite a positive relationship despite the different characters. The agreement is more favourable to friendship than love. Very good agreement on the intellectual and spiritual level especially if there is an altruistic objective, a shared ideal. It is the energy of the 9 that must dominate and benefit from the openings of the 7 and not the other way around. Less good for achievement.

Expression number - Characters compatibility

8 and 1 : Characters who confront each other, but luck in business and possible success with money or shared sports. It works better if the 1 dominates the 8, who will bring {his,her} partner power. An inverse relation would provoke tensions and even problems.

Desire number - Characters compatibility

1 and 1 : Difficult agreement. Each one wants to dominate, no-one likes to make concessions (sometimes an electric atmosphere). Opt for constructive competition.

Destiny number - Characters compatibility

4 and 2 : A good agreement generally long-term but not many fantasies. A good possibility of working together if each one is positive.

Strong points of the relationship

It is possible to have an insight into some strong points of your relationship in "mixing" the themes of the two people. So, it is a matter of the overall vibration of the couple, again called composite vibration. We start by adding each of the principal numbers, which are the Expression Number, the Desire Number, the Intimate Number and the Destiny Number (conjunction of the Life Path and Expression Number).

The composite vibration of the Expression Number concerns usual behaviour, the composite vibration of the Desire Number concerns the emotional, while the Intimate Number concerns the more concrete activities, the projects or the problems to resolve.

As for the Destiny Number, it concerns the opportunities for success but its reliability is quite relative.

Intimate number - Relationship strong points

Composite vibration 7. Strong points with mind work (intellectual or spiritual), music, culture, shared research, leisure activities, reflection, meditation, intellectual friendship. Not really favourable to an emotional union or marriage in the usual sense because it is more an exchanging of spiritual or intellectual ideas that is favoured. If it works, the couple will seem a little mysterious to others. If the 7 came from 16, and a union is in view, it is necessary to look out for the profound and real to avoid the risks of breakdown or questioning. Watch out for signs of pride or egoism, lack of scruples or contempt for others ! In this case the relationship will not withstand.

Expression number - Relationship strong points

Composite vibration 9. Favourable for all to do with communication, contacts with foreigners, travelling, culture, knowledge, talents, humanitarian or altruistic causes, invention or research. This can lead to a successful union if both are tolerant and share the same sensitivity, which isn't always the case. A very open couple, original, idealistic, sometimes difficult to follow and whose life is quite public. Be careful nevertheless of hyper-sensitivity, shared utopia, vanity and phases of depression. If the 9 came from 18, illusions, deceptions or financial errors are possible. Take precautions.

Desire number - Relationship strong points

Composite vibration 2. Strong points in all that is associated with the union (marriage, life as a couple, family but also association, co-operation with the outside and diplomacy). This vibration favours mutual service, the construction of a family (often fertile), a nice house and kindness. A flexible couple with concern, tenderness and imagination. A couple often romantic but who must be careful of a certain passiveness or daydreaming.

Destiny number - Relationship strong points

Composite vibration 6. An excellent vibration for home life, family affairs, decoration, the arts, aesthetics, educational projects, saving, friends, human warmth, helping others and advice giving activities. It is very good for a harmonious family life where the beautiful, the well-being, the truth and aiding others will have an important place. This will end up at a classic and refined couple often with a developed sensuality and having a sense of responsibility. On the negative side, it is necessary for the couple to watch out for one of the following problem :

- a tendency to get mixed up in other peoples affairs.
- acceptance of too many responsibilities and obligations.
- a tendency to be influenced, manipulated and lacking initiative.
- a tendency to build a relationship on sensual attraction only.

holding a grudge when hurt emotionally or morally.

To anticipate the length of the relationship

In knowing the value of the Personal Year Number of the two people concerned by the agreement, it is possible to get an idea of the vibrations that are going to influence the state of mind of each of the partners. These vibrations have a non negligible influence on the length of the agreement even if they can be hidden (to whatever degree) by external eventualities having a superior impact. Numerology only describe the basic vibrations of the life and character of an individual (i.e. the sea currents, the tide, the season, the location of the main reefs for a sailor) but cannot give information on extraordinary events happening sometimes in life (for the sailor : a hurricane or meeting an iceberg). Remember that the Personal Year Number is calculated by adding your day and month of birth to the current year, then reducing to the unity.

If the start of the relationship was in 1990 and you were born on the 7th May, this will give  $7+5+1990=2002=4$ . In this way one partner will be in personal Year Number 4. If the other partner was born on the 9th January, this will give  $9+1+1990=2000=2$  as the Personal Year Number. In consulting the corresponding numbers, you will have an idea of the state of mind of each one of the partners and like this, an indication of probable length of the relationship.

It is sufficient to compare the Personal Year Numbers of each person as well as the Cycles, to know if the vibrations are favourable or not for a long understanding. Statistically, the most delicate Personal Year Numbers or Cycles to put together are :

2-5
2-7
2-9
4-5
4-11
5-6
6-9
7-8
7-9

The Cycles (and sometimes Personal Years) accompanied by frequent clashes are :

1-8 because both want to command.
3-4 if the 4 dominates too much and imposes it's rhythm.
4-4 they could be both stubborn.
4-8 if the 4 is too slow.
4-9 if the 4 is too materialist and the 9 too idealist.
6-7 if the 7 is too cold.
6-8 if the 8 is too hard-hearted.

Another way in which to get an idea of the duration of the partnership consists in comparing the Cycle and the Destiny Numbers (the addition of the Life Path to the Expression Number). Also be aware that if the relationship concerns work or a concrete project, then the compatibility on the level of the Intimate Number becomes more important than the Expression and Desire Numbers.

Start year of the relationship 2005

State of mind of Claudia Schiffer

Year 4. This is a favourable year for the creation of a solid, long-lasting bond, with the possibility of the creation of a home. You look for security and have the desire to protect.

State of mind of Jacques Chirac

Year 2. An excellent year to seal a relationship or union. The security will be here.

Cycle compatibility in 2006

Cycle of Claudia Schiffer

In cycle 7, one is above all attracted by reflection, understanding, observation, and calm. You will privilege intellectual friendships more than emotional, thus, love and marriage will have a little less importance during this period. Not always compatible with someone living in a number 3 cycle and privileging extroversion.

Cycle of Jacques Chirac

A person in cycle 6 will be more sensitive to the aspect of responsibility, to familial and social harmony, aesthetic, love and security. A point of view not always compatible with someone living in a number 5 cycle (except perhaps concerning the sensual aspect).

Erotic behaviour of Claudia Schiffer

Erotic behaviour

The horoscope used in China and Thailand functions according to a 12 year cycle. Strictly speaking this isn't Numerology but it can give you a new and interesting approach to your erotic behaviour. Be aware: This sign starts the first of January and not in February as the Chinese horoscope. This choice is due to the higher sensibility of Westerner people to their own system of calendar. Also, in discovering the intimate personality of the person that you love and desire, you will understand better how to satisfy {his / her} most secret desires. The general advice that you are given in this text will help you to guide yourself better in reflection that you will do either alone or with your partner.

According to this horoscope, you were born during the year of the Dog. Here is a description of your erotic behaviour.

The female "Dog" is a natural dreamer. Her reserve and her discretion make us think that she is timid. In fact, she turns more inward than outward. In general she is a beautiful plant which doesn't shed its leaves easily. Her simple modesty which she preserves from the beginning to the end of her life, doesn't stop her when the moment comes to devote herself to pleasure. In giving and receiving pleasure. She can get carried away very quickly and totally, because in spite of appearances her sexuality is distinctly superior to the average. She must love her partner and not have doubts about his thoughts or frankness, otherwise she will rear up, be hurt in her heart and there is a risk of serious rebellion. She can become ferocious (verbally and sometimes physically) and enclose herself in her ivory tower, refusing all sexuality during quite a long period. But one can easily avoid this happening in always showing her the respect and tenderness that she deserves. Love her, be generous with her, because her generosity is great too and her need to give and please are some of her great qualities.

Erotic behaviour of Jacques Chirac

According to this horoscope, you were born during the year of the Monkey. Here is a description of your erotic behaviour.

The male "Monkey" has an artist's temperament. His principle tool is his imagination used for numerous activities intellectual as well as erotic. He likes to joke, to seduce and to make love. If he wants to, he can be the best. He knows how to combine moral qualities (kindness, affection, sensitivity, sensuality sometimes mixed with a little shyness) with physical qualities that are a pleasure to see, but even more to put into practice. The male "Monkey" doesn't try to give pleasure, he gives pleasure because he is talented as well as attentive to the desires of his partner. Moreover, he doesn't sleep anywhere! He must have an alcove with subdued light as well as a quite romantic atmosphere. Sometimes his dreams will take him far away from his surrounding world and his partner. If she doesn't have a great sexual desire at that moment, it is better to wait a bit. Otherwise she will have to gently attack the multiple erogenous zones of her partner. They are as numerous as the scales on a fish, and you will see him wake up slowly towards this better world, the seventh heaven. But above all give him activity because the monkey is curious and will look elsewhere if his attention isn't regularly captivated.

Comparison from the 4 Elements

Four elements or seasons exist which are the Earth (Autumn), Water (Winter), Air (Spring) and Fire (Summer). Each one of these elements has a fundamental role to play to make a " complete cycle ". In the same way that these 4 elements form the essential pillars of natural life, we can consider that to be a " complete " person, we must be positive in these 4 key sectors seen in the personality. We can associate schematically specific qualities for each element.

The EARTH is the indispensable base. It is the nutritious support, the symbol of fertility. It will be characterised by the taste for work, solidity, the sense of traditions, health, concrete sense, respect of ecology, cleanliness, generosity and seriousness. The negative aspects of an " Earth " personality could be inertia, heaviness, harshness, a pessimistic or blinkered vision. In Numerology the Earth corresponds in principle to the number 4, 6 and 8 vibrations.

The WATER irrigates the Earth. In reasonable quantity it can generate abundance. In excess it floods the Earth and will erode the soil. It will be characterised by the sense of organisation, relationships, co-operation, order, logic and intelligence but without creativity (organisation rather than intuition). A negative personality of this type means coldness, hypocritical relationships or relationships for self-interest, contempt, an excessive taste for hierarchy and rules. The combination of Earth and Water qualities brings economic well-being because the two parties complement each other. But often the Water leaders are passionately fond of dominating or of strangling the Earth people (who form the majority) with taxes. In the end, this leads to limitations or a recession. In Numerology, Water generally corresponds to the vibrations 2, 7, 22 and sometimes 1 and 8 (if those people are devoted to managing).

The AIR has the capacity to evaporate Water in favour of it's own distribution over the Earth. It is an indispensable element. Air will be characterised by morality, a sharp sense of justice, the search for spiritual or scientific truth, originality, new ideas and a creative intelligence. The Air carries it's spirit and vitality to the Earth-Water system. The corruption is a negative combination of Water and Air. In Numerology Air corresponds in general to the number 5, 6 and 11 vibrations and sometimes the number 1 (if the 1 has an individual and innovating mind). The 6 being taken with it's more psychological or spiritual aspects (desire for harmony) rather than physical.

The FIRE is the sun which comes to heat the Earth and permit the belief in good conditions. It will be characterised by panache, charm, magnetism, harmony, beauty, confidence, warmth, enthusiasm, passion, the emotions and kindness. The Fire comes to add the final touch of human warmth and beauty to the Earth-Water-Air system. Relationships where everyone's a winner are a positive combination of Air and Fire. Suspicion is the result of negative Air and Fire. In Numerology, Fire corresponds in principle to the numbers 1, 3, 9 and sometimes 2 vibrations (the sensitivity and human warmth of the 2).

For agreement, it is sometimes interesting to compare the principle numbers of each partner (Expression Number, Intimate Number, Desire Number and Life Path) on such a basis. This can help you to understand certain aspects of your relationship better and also improve one or an other of the 4 elements, knowing that a good understanding necessitates a healthy base to each one of these elements. It is also necessary to know that we often favour a bit more one of the 4 elements and that the attraction of one element to another follows the natural cycle of the seasons. In this way Fire is seduced by the stature of the Earth which is attracted by the sense of organisation of the Water which in it's turn admires the creativity of the Air which is attracted by the charm of the Fire.

UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN THESE 4 ELEMENTS

Earth-Earth : Good relationship in the physical and material areas, but more delicate on the emotional plan. Quite a poor relationship as far as new ideas and spirituality are concerned.

Earth-Fire : Delicate agreement which takes a long time to master. It is necessary to avoid the Earth (dominant) becoming lifeless or depreciating the Fire's contribution. A risk of frustration if the two philosophies are not in harmony.

Earth-Water : Harmonious and sensual relationship. A good love or friendship relationship. But in the end it's the Water who dominates.

Earth-Air : In so far as elements are opposed, there is an incompatibility here under the form of an incomprehension (different wavelength) or even conflicts or continual clashes. Delicate.

Water-Air : If there is agreement for a shared project, the energy of these two will be powerful and will profit from a complete cycle. But more frequently, sentimental compatibility is reduced. An intellectual friendship is more suitable. In the case of conflict, the Air will end up draining the water away.

Water-Fire : We find two opposing element here that often have an explosive relationship. Not very interesting due to the constraints. A common work is possible if you manage to keep a good atmosphere by reciprocal efforts.

Water-Water : Two accomplices in their activities but a bit dull and boring as far as a love life goes. Both are often too calculating and not altruistic enough to hope to reach a real love.

Air-Fire : Excellent compatibility. In principle it is a harmonious relationship in all areas. Passion is present as well as communication. Be careful of unreasonable passion or a loss of individuality.

Air-Air : This is a very strong, very intuitive relationship suitable for developed and sensitive people. The intellectual area is favoured. However, some material or down to earth gaps. If there is good sense the relationship will be excellent.

Fire-Fire : Passionate and powerful relationship. It is beautiful to see but sometimes the " fuel " is lacking and in such a case there is a risk of friction.

To want to base everything on one of these pillars is a mistake, we understand the necessity for success with a good agreement in working on these 4 centres !
